History of The Atherton Family & Foundation

Juliette M. Atherton

Juliette M. Atherton, the widow of Joseph B. Atherton, expressed her commitment to the welfare of the people of Hawaii with the creation of the Juliette M. Atherton Trust. On December 21, 1915, Mrs. Atherton transferred 20 percent of the outstanding shares of the Atherton Estate to her children, Charles H. Atherton, Mary A. Richards, and Frank C. Atherton. The 1,500 shares would be held in trust to continue the charitable work that Mrs. Atherton was vitally interested in throughout her life.

Mrs. Atherton originally retained the right to amend or revoke the trust. In 1921, the trust became an irrevocable charitable trust when she gave up her rights and amended the governing documents. This action was taken in recognition of the exemplary service performed by the trustees, and that they and succeeding trustees would perpetuate the trust's philanthropic purposes as intended by Mrs. Atherton. The deed directed that the trust income be used for:

"...grants, loans, and other forms of payment toward assisting in the establishment, maintenance, or promotion of such religious, charitable, educational, benevolent, scientific, or other purposes, works, or enterprises, whether public or private, including schools, colleges, hospitals, asylums, homes, and the like institutions and objects for the public benefit, and including also the support and education of individuals during their attendance at any educational institution, and whether to corporations, associations, or other organizations or any private individual or individuals, as the Trustees shall in each case in their discretion and of their own volition approve."

Frank C. Atherton

Frank C. Atherton, business executive and philanthropist, was born in Honolulu on July 1, 1877. He was the son of industrialist Joseph B. Atherton and Juliette M. Atherton, daughter of pioneer American missionaries to Hawaii. Mr. Atherton attended Wesleyan University in Middletown, Connecticut. Upon his return to Hawaii, he entered the world of finance and later became interested in industry. Like his forebears, he devoted much of his time to religious and civic works. On December 24, 1935, 10 years prior to his death, he established the Frank C. Atherton Trust to continue his support of religious, educational, and charitable programs and organizations. Grants and donations from the Frank C. Atherton Trust were primarily used to support charitable projects and programs in the state of Hawaii. In accordance with the purposes, expressed in the trust agreement, grants were for:

"...the making of donations, contributions, subscriptions, loans, and other forms of payment or toward assisting the establishment, maintenance and / or promotion of such religious, scientific, educational, and other charitable purposes and enterprises whether public or private, including churches, societies, schools, colleges, hospitals, asylums, homes, and like institutions and object for the public benefit."

Mr. Atherton appointed Eleanore S. Atherton, Marjory A. Wightman, and himself as Trustees.

Atherton Family Foundation

In 1975, the trustees of the Juliette M. Atherton Trust initiated action, which resulted in the creation of the Atherton Family Foundation, a nonprofit corporation organized in the state of Hawaii. A charter of incorporation was granted on November 4, 1975. The trustees then voted unanimously to transfer all investment property and income of the trust to the Atherton Family Foundation and transfer instruments were executed in January 1976. In December 1976, the trustees voted unanimously to transfer the property of the Frank C. Atherton Trust to the Atherton Family Foundation and executed appropriate instruments shortly thereafter.

Historically, the policies, the type of requests considered, and the primary fields of interest of the Juliette M. Atherton Trust and the Frank C. Atherton Trust were similar in nature. Both trusts considered educational programs and institutions the highest priority, and gave careful attention to religious organizations and health and social services.

The consolidation of the two trusts fulfilled several objectives: to provide more efficient administration, to allow greater flexibility in foundation policies, to increase protection and growth of the investment assets, and to increase the number of members and directors.

The diversity of the directors' perceptions and experiences has enhanced the Foundation's capacity to respond to the community and broadened its representation of charitable interests.

The Atherton Family Foundation is now one of the largest endowed grantmaking private resources in the state of Hawaii devoted exclusively to the support of charitable activities. It perpetuates the philanthropic commitment expressed during the lifetimes of Juliette M. Atherton and Frank C. Atherton, and of the family who have followed them.

Investing in Our Community Through the Environment

The Atherton Family Foundation continues its mission to support nonprofit organizations throughout Hawaii. In 2018, the Foundation awarded $3.7 million in grants to organizations in a broad range of fields doing important work to support and enhance the lives of Hawaii residents.

In 2018, the Foundation awarded over $590,000 in grants to 25 organizations in the area of the environment. These investments included conservation, restoration, and education efforts, from the mountains to the ocean. Projects also focused on conserving Hawaii's endangered flora, fauna, and animals.

Malama Maunalua

Malama Maunalua (MM) is a community-based organization that works to restore and conserve Maunalua Bay through community kuleana (caring and responsibility). Established in 2006, MM is the only organization focused on restoring Maunalua Bay, which reaches from Black Point to Koko Head on Oahu and includes more than 60,000 residents, 10 business centers, and 15 schools. MM has achieved sustainable restoration in a heavily degraded area of the Bay.

The Foundation awarded a multi-year grant to support several high-impact projects seeking to advance restoration gains in Maunalua Bay by piloting innovative restoration techniques that benefit science and conservation in Hawaii. MM partnered with numerous organizations to conduct one of the largest water quality sampling initiatives in the state, and the largest one in Maunalua Bay history. Data from the initiative was processed and is available to the public. A team of volunteers and interns built an algae vacuum to remove the bay's most troublesome invasive alien algae, leather mudweed, and gorilla ogo. Over 11,746 pounds of invasive alien algae has been removed. As a result of these efforts, the bay is prepared for subsequent restoration efforts including urchin bio-control and seagrass and native algae transplanting. MM also partnered with Hawaii Pacific University to conduct a coral recruitment study to determine if coral recruitment occurs in the nearshore reef flat. The findings of this study helped to eliminate a key concern with growing coral in the bay. MM's projects engaged the community and partners to continue restoration and conservation efforts of Maunalua Bay.

Ohu Ohu Koolau Inc. & Koolau Mountains Watershed Partnership

Ohu Ohu Koolau Inc. provides support for watershed management activities performed by the Koolau Mountains Watershed Partnership (KMWP). KMWP facilitates the protection of watershed forests in the Koolau Mountains and recognizes that healthy forests are necessary to sustain the future quality and quantity of Oahu's water supply. KMWP is comprised of 16 landowning and 9 associate partners, encompassing a management area of over 100,000 acres. KMWP conducts forest management activities across the entire partnership area.

The Foundation awarded a grant to support an outreach program to educate Hawaii residents and visitors about the importance of protecting native watershed forests. KMWP organized 35 workdays at 5 different sites where volunteers removed invasive weeds, planted native plants, and learned about the importance of native watershed forests. Volunteers assisted to plant 1,720 native plants and removed invasive weeds during these workdays. The primary worksites included the Nuuanu Pali State Wayside, the Manana Trail in Pearl City, and the Ala Mahamoe worksite in Moanalua. KMWP's outreach specialist participated in 17 community events and classroom presentations, educating students and families about watershed protection reaching over 3,000 people.

Re-use Hawaii

Re-use Hawaii preserves natural resources, provides an affordable building material source through alternatives to demolition, and helps to sustain Hawaii's fragile island ecosystem. Re-use Hawaii has two core programs: Deconstruction Program and Redistribution Center. The Deconstruction Program dismantles residential and commercial buildings as an alternative to conventional demolition. Salvaged material is made available to community members at its Redistribution Center. These two programs work together to collect landfill bound materials and distribute them back to the community. Re-use Hawaii creates green jobs, provides affordable resources to the community, and reduces the need to import new materials to Hawaii.

The Foundation awarded a grant to Re-use Hawaii to purchase much-needed tools and equipment to support and expand the capacity of its Deconstruction Program and the Redistribution Center. During the grant period, Re-use Hawaii completed 70 deconstruction projects (including both residential and commercial), diverted 1,236 tons of material from the landfill (equivalent to 250 large dumpsters), reduced Green House Gas emissions by 986 tons, and redistributed $1,086,000 worth of salvaged material back to the community. This represents an estimated cost savings for the community of more than $325,000.

Grant Application Guidelines

The Foundation makes grants for programs and projects that benefit the people of Hawaii. The fields of greatest interest are arts, culture, and humanities; community development; education; environment; health; human services; spiritual development; and youth development. Grant application information can be found on the Foundation's website at www.athertonfamilyfoundation.org

Scholarship Program

The Juliette M. Atherton Scholarship was named in memory of Mrs. Atherton to ensure the continued association of her name and her special interest in Christianity with the Foundation. The scholarship benefits three categories of individuals: dependent sons or daughters of ordained, active Protestant ministers in Hawaii pursuing undergraduate studies; individuals from Hawaii pursuing graduate theological studies at a Protestant seminary with the goal of ordination; and active, ordained Protestant ministers residing in Hawaii seeking an advanced degree. Scholarship recipients are selected based on their financial need and academic promise.

For the 2018–2019 academic year, scholarship awards totaled $145,000 to 29 students. The Directors also award an annual grant to support the Community Scholarship Fund at the Hawaii Community Foundation.

Applications will be available online beginning November 15, 2018, for the 2019–2020 academic year for seminary students, Protestant ministers pursuing advanced degrees, or sons and daughters of Protestant ministers. Application materials, transcript of grades, and personal statement must be submitted by January 31, 2019.

Advanced degree program applicants must provide the place and date of ordination, and the name of the seminary attended to confirm eligibility.
